

For Criterion 29, can observed behavior be self-reported?

Published Date: March 30, 2017

Last Revised: March 30, 2017

Individuals or groups of learners can self-report and/or self-assess their communication skills, but the accredited provider must also include external observation with feedback to the learner – for example with a faculty member, a peer observer, or a standardized patient.
